

COVID-19 TESTING AND HEALTH INSURANCE COVERAGE

Health insurance generally covers the care and testing associated with COVID-19 symptoms and exposures. However, coverage rules vary between different health insurance companies. Co-pays, deductibles, and co-insurance costs may be due after the charges are settled by your insurance company or at the time of service. Contact your health insurance plan for the most up to date coverage information.

Health insurance does not cover COVID-19 testing for travel or event clearance.

We are happy to offer 3 COVID-19 testing options including an in-house Rapid Antigen test, and in-house Rapid Molecular test – the ID NOW by Abbott labs, and a send-out PCR test performed through WestPac Lab. Your medical provider will guide you to the most appropriate option.

The charges for the COVID-19 test options are as follows:

- Rapid QuickVue Antigen in-office test $50.00
- Rapid ABBOTT ID NOW molecular in-office test $75.00
- PCR send-out test at WestPac Lab $100.00 (for illness/exposure)

COVID-19 testing options do not cover the cost of your associated medical evaluation.

We will bill your health insurance company for your evaluation and COVID-19 testing, if appropriate. By contract your health insurance may pay a different price for testing. However, you are ultimately responsible for the associated charges. You and/or your insurance will be billed separately if we utilize an outside lab.
